CURES ALL DISEASES!

Consumption Cured.
"I believe it to be one of the best medicines sold. The physicians, two years ago, said my wife had consumption, both lungs affected. I have had to send her South for several springs to keep her alive, but since she has been taking Dr. Williams' Microbe Killer she has been right at home attending to her business, and is in better health than she has been for 10 years."
—W. L. Davis, Colquhoun, Ga.

Several Diseases Cured.
"I cheerfully testify to the curative power of your medicine. Having been a sufferer from weak lungs, bronchial affection and indigestion, after taking Microbe Killer all of the above symptoms have entirely disappeared."
—J. W. L. Davis, Colquhoun, Ga.

Asthma and Catarrh Cured.
"I have been a sufferer from asthma and catarrh for more than two years past, getting much of my sleep sitting up in bed or reclining in a chair. I have used one jar of Dr. Williams' Microbe Killer, and for the last three weeks have been sleeping naturally, soundly and sweetly as a child. I attributed my relief to the remedy, and I feel confident it to any one suffering from asthmatic or catarrhal trouble. Respectfully,
—J. W. L. Davis, Colquhoun, Ga.

Fever and Flux Cured.
"I cheerfully testify that after taking Microbe Killer for fifteen days I am entirely cured, after being sick two years with malarial fever, and during which time I contracted other diseases, such as typhoid, and I am now in perfect health. I feel confident it to any one suffering from malarial or other fevers. Respectfully,
—J. W. L. Davis, Colquhoun, Ga.

EVERY FAMILY

Should be provided with Ayer's Pills. No other aperient is in such general demand or so highly recommended by the profession. Mild but thorough in operation, these pills are the best of all remedies for constipation, biliousness, heartburn, indigestion, flatulency, loss of appetite, liver complaint, and sick headache. They break up colds, fevers, and malaria, relieve rheumatism and neuralgia, and are indispensable to travelers, either by land or sea. Compound of Sugar-coated and the purest vegetable cathartics, they may be taken with impunity by old and young. Physicians recommend these pills in preference to any other. H. W. Hersh, Hudson, Ark., says: "In 1853, by the advice of a friend, I began the use of Ayer's Pills as a remedy for biliousness, constipation, high fevers, and colds. They served me better than anything I had previously tried, and I have used them in attacks of that sort ever since."

Ayer's Cathartic Pills Every Dose Effective.

It is better to take Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil when that decline in health begins—the decline which precedes consumption—rather than wait for the germ to begin to grow in our lungs.

"Prevention is better than cure," and surer. The saying never was truer than here.

RUSSIAN FAMINE.

The Terrible Suffering Appeals to the Humanity of the World.

THE UNITED STATES COMMITTEE

Issues Another Appeal to the Farmers of This Country Who Have Been Blessed With Good Crops—The Famine, So Vast and Dire, Not Alone, But Supplemented by Fearful Suffering from the Cold.

Already American ships laden with food for famine-stricken millions of Russia, contributed by the people of the United States, are on their way, but more is needed to help those who are at this moment starving and must perish unless relieved. As before stated in the INTELLIGENCER twenty millions of people in the famine district are dying for want of food and from cold and pestilence. No calamity of such magnitude has visited the world in modern times.

The relief committee of the United States, composed of eminent statesmen, clergymen of all denominations and the governors of the various states, with headquarters at 732 Fourteenth street, Washington, D. C., have just issued an appeal to the farmers which we publish below.

The fact that the famine is there to stay until after the coming harvest must be faced. The Russian government is exerting itself nobly and heroically for the rescue of the people, both by a munificence worthy of a great nation and by the sacrifices of those who administer the public affairs.

Notwithstanding all this, the extent of the famine is so great and the revenues of the government have been so far crippled by repeated and wide-spread failures of the crops, that there is need of help from other friendly countries—help immediate, liberal and persistent, until the hunger of a starving people is stayed.

The rest of Europe having also been impoverished, the bulk of supplies must come from America, so grandly competent at all times, and so wonderfully blessed with bountiful crops the past season that she can send ship load after ship load of food without perceptible drain upon her inexhaustible stores.

Besides the spontaneous gifts that will at once flow in from the more sympathetic, there will be need of great public meetings; of the thorough work of zealous and efficient canvassing committees; of the emulation that may be awakened among the trades and professions, and even among the churches; of honorable rivalry between neighborhoods, villages, cities and commonwealths.

Following is the appeal to the farmers:

732 FOURTEENTH STREET, WASHINGTON, D. C., March, 1892.

To the Farmers of America:

The vicissitudes of climate are such in all countries that not even the most favored can hope for entire immunity from the losses and distresses they may entail.

To-day it is the wretched lot of some twenty great provinces of middle and southern Russia, having a population equal to nearly one-fourth that of the whole empire to suffer the horrors of famine.

For successive years their crops were scant, and last year they failed so almost entirely that multitudes are without food other than the refuse of their neighbors' fields, granaries, cellars and kitchens, the seed of wheat and the bark of trees ground and mixed with these. The cattle on which they had depended for milk or service, and even their horses, needed as beasts of burden, are slain and consumed as a means of prolonging life until relief shall come some quarter of the globe.

Starvation alone is terrible enough, but the famine in Russia has been aggravated by a fierceness of cold rarely known in a Russian winter, while fuel is so scarce that in many cases remnants of stubble and the thatching of stables, mixed with turf and dried scrapings of the barnyard afford the only means of warming their hovels and cooking the miserable pittance of food thus gathered together.

Nor is this all. Pestilence, too, has come with all its added terrors. Hunger, freezing, and beset by famine fever, the poor peasants of Russia demand the world's sympathy as it has seldom been demanded in all human history.

What is to be done? Europe in general has been a sufferer from the drouths of '91 and has little to spare. But, thank Heaven, America has been blessed as never before. We have millions to sell, and can also give millions and feel ourselves none the poorer.

Has not a good providence made us stewards of His bounty for this greatest of all crises—for the salvation of many millions of our fellow-men in the far-away country of a great and friendly power?

That America will respond in a signal manner who can doubt? Already the city of brotherly love has sent forth one steamship on its errand of mercy, and another sailed from New York this week. But still other ships must go in like manner, that the millions of outstretched hands may not wait in vain.

The farmers, the gardeners, the fruit-growers, the dairymen, the stock-growers of the United States, are among the most intelligent and responsive of all our sixty-five millions. They can each give a portion, either in kind or for conversion into other produce or money, of all that they have so bountifully received. Will they wait for some miracle, or will they act?

Some, thank God, have acted already. The farmers of Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas, Illinois, Ohio and some other states have moved and are moving. Wheat and rye flour, kiln-dried cornmeal, cured meats and canned goods generally are on the way to the seaboard. But many cargoes will be needed ere the wants of 20,000,000 are met through all the months until a new harvest.

"Therefore, whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so unto them." There is no higher, truer, other law. Its fulfillment by Americans will banish the Russian famine, and leave it but a horrid dream.

The railroad companies have consented to carry car loads of famine supplies to the seaboard without charge; the owners of mills and kiln-drying houses at Akron, Ohio, and at Wilmington, Del., are preparing corn at almost no cost to the donor, and when your gifts are ready, if you have no other preferred medium, application to the Red Cross, 732 Fourteenth street, Washington, will secure printed tags, in required number, that will direct them to places of consignment on the seaboard.

Farmers of America! Let your deeds in this day of calamity be fully worthy of yourselves, of the matchless advantages you so richly enjoy, of this glorious land so happily inherited, of this our sacred cause so urgently demanding the glad service of all who love their fellow men!

In the name of all by whom and for whom this appeal is made.

JOHN W. HOYT, Chairman of the Russian Famine Relief Committee of the United States.

A TERRIBLE RIDE.

A Letter Carrier's Awful Experience. Eighteen Miles With His Legs Crushed.

CRAWFORDVILLE, IND., March 17.—It was a fearful ride that James Gilbrath had on a freight train this afternoon. Gilbrath is mail carrier at Linden, eighteen miles out of Crawfordsville. This afternoon he got the mail from the north bound train and started for the postoffice, climbing between two cars of a freight train that was standing on the switch. While in the act of climbing through the train started and his legs were caught between the draw bars. There was no brake for him to seize, so in terrible agony as he was seized the narrow blocks along the ends of the draw bars, and pluckily held on for the awful ride of eighteen miles, his legs being crushed to a jelly as the cars bumped and thundered along over the rough road bed. It seems almost miraculous, but the plucky man did not faint till the train stopped in Crawfordsville. He was at once discovered and taken from his place of fearful torture. He can hardly recover, but he will die with the reputation of having made the most terrible ride on record.

Married a Chinaman.

New York, March 17.—The marriage of Miss Laddia Manthey is the talk of Newark, N. J. She is a buxom German girl of seventeen, and her handsome admirer and trim figure won her many admirers among the sons of well-to-do German residents. Fong Lee, a prosperous Chinese laundress, saw and loved her. She reciprocated. He proposed and she accepted him. Now she is Mrs. Fong Lee. Justice Sidel married them last evening in the presence of a large number of invited guests.

Refused to Prosecute.

New York, March 17.—Webster B. Hill, the young man from Chicago who was arrested at the St. George Hotel in Brooklyn, on a charge of having stolen jewelry belonging to Miss Melvaine, while he was attending a reception in Princeton, was released yesterday. Miss Melvaine would not press the complaint and he was allowed to depart with his mother.

The Lease Ratified.

ROANOKE, VA., March 17.—The stockholders of the Roanoke & Southern Railroad have ratified the lease of that road to the Norfolk & Western for a period of ninety-nine years.

Hotel Burned.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., March 16.—The Spencer house, one of the oldest and best known hotels at the Falls, was entirely destroyed by fire to-night.

After the Grip.

and after typhoid fever, diphtheria, pneumonia, or other prostrating diseases, Hood's Sarsaparilla is just what is needed to restore the strength and vigor so much desired, and to expel all poison from the blood. It has had wonderful success in many such cases.

Hood's Pills act especially upon the liver, rousing it from torpidity to its natural duties, cure constipation and assist digestion.

The last execution for forgery in England took place at the Old Bailey, on December 31, 1891. The name of the convict was Thomas Maynard.

I HAVE been troubled with catarrh for ten years and have tried a number of remedies, but found no relief until I purchased a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. I consider it the most reliable preparation for catarrh and cold in the head.—Geo. E. Crandall, P. M., Quonochawaug, R. I.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The Features of the Money and Stock Markets.

New York, March 17.—Money on call easy at 1/2 per cent; last loan 2 per cent; closed offered at 2 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 4 1/2 per cent. Sterling exchange quiet but steady at 85 1/2; sales 21,000 shares.

As was to be expected the reorganization of the Richmond & West Point caused some disquietude in Wall street to some extent, and the realization of such profits was taken advantage of in the early trading to-day to depress both the stocks and the trust bonds. The consolidation of these securities were very material, but the rest of the market while giving no evidence of special interest refused to follow the lead of Richmond & West Point and dispirited throughout most of the day a decidedly firm to strong market. Buying power, however, was not strong, and the market was not the feature of the dealings, and the market displayed a temper which it has not shown for some days, though the business as a whole, but little of the professional character, and the volume remained small, while in most stocks the fluctuations were still of the hand to mouth order, and the bulk of the market was actually on a par with the outside of the grangers there was little animation or force to the upward movement, and the changes in quotations were generally of the minor order. The late dealings, however, were marked by severe pressure to sell from the bear sources, and in the last hour prices melted away more rapidly than they had advanced, and most of the gains were realized, while in many cases prices in addition were lost. The market finally closed quiet but heavy, generally at but slight changes from the opening prices.

Railroad bonds were again quiet. Sales $1,000,000.

Government and state bonds dull and steady.

Headstuffs and Provisions.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 17.—A man got action for his headstuffs the other day; 1200 lbs. were more ready than usual of late to move quickly on whatever first came to hand, and wheat took a big tumble, breaking 2 1/2, corn and oats fell 1 cent each, and the market was not so strong, and a deluge of long stuff flooded all them on 'Change. In wheat at the start there was decided strength and higher prices, but the bulk was soon changed and the feeling became as weak as it had been strong, and early bulls were quickly put to rout. The weather situation was the bull factor during the morning, but the early market was also rather encouraging. Crop failures were also rather pouring in from all sections of the winter wheat belt, with the weather still said to be threatening, and the market was not so strong, and a deluge of long stuff flooded all them on 'Change. Flour nominal; market weak and lower.
